

SourceForge Enterprise Edition 3.4 Supplemental Materials Inventory and Legal Disclaimer

* Please read this document before using any of the materials provided in the SourceForge Master Group project. ****

As a service to our customers, VA Software provides a number of documents, software utilities, and other materials selected to help you get started with SourceForge. Some of the materials are owned and supported by VA Software. Others are third party, open source utilities that complement SourceForge in some way and are provided as a convenience, but are not supported by VA Software. These unsupported utilities are identified in this document and are covered by the terms of their respective copyright holders' license agreements.

By using the materials provided in the SourceForge Master Group project, you agree to the terms and conditions of the applicable license agreements and understand that VA Software is not responsible for supporting any items designated as 'Not Supported' in the table below.

The following list includes all items shipped with the SourceForge Enterprise Edition 3.4 release.
